

How do I equip myself for the HKDSE?

By Cheung Man, Iris (SS1E)

The HKDSE is very important to me. What should I do to deal with it?

First, I think watch more English movies is effective. I can learn correct pronunciation, and can learn a lot of useful dialogues in movies. They are common and I can use them anytime.

Secondly, plenty of teenagers love music. So do I. When I listen to English songs, I find some difficult words. Maybe I don't know the meaning, but I am able to say them properly. I think it is enough.

Thirdly, the best way to learn English is to know English popular culture. Comic strips are an example. They are easy to understand. And read comic strips can give me lots of fun. Also, read magazines is great. Some magazines are about health and some are about fashion. I can not only study new vocabularies, but can also get to know more about our daily life.

English is around our lives. What we eat, where we travel, what we read and so on. English is a popular and useful language, maybe it is not difficult and I can learn it better.

Study English hard by heart. I wish I could have a good result in the HKDSE.
