Fun ways to improve English

In Hong Kong, we need to learn more English language skills. If we have better English skills, we will find better jobs. It is very important to improve our English because we can get higher marks in the examinations. We will have a better chance of studying at university. Also, we can enjoy many interesting English TV programmes. In the following, there are three fun ways to improve English language skills and to learn English more effectively.

The first fun way to improve English is that we can read more magazines and story books. We can borrow some English magazines from the library. And we can buy story books online or from the book fair. On the internet, we can visit English websites or read comic books. If we can browse more and read more books, we can improve our writing skills. That is why I visit the library regularly.

Another interesting way to improve English is that we can write English emails to our friends. By doing so, we can improve our writing skills. I write some emails in English to my friends weekly.

The last fun way to improve English is that we can watch interesting movies or listen to English songs. On the internet, we can find some English songs on You-tube. We can improve our listening skills if we always view English movies and listen to English songs.

In conclusion, we can develop a habit of reading magazines and story books, watching English movies and listening to English songs to improve our English. We can recommend the above three ways to our friends to improve their English.
